Xanadoo Launches New Wireless High-Speed Internet Service

Provides $4,000 in local community support

Springfield, IL - February 11, 2008. Xanadoo Wireless High-Speed Internet is cutting the cord on dial-up, DSL and cable in Springfield, IL with its official launch today. Springfield is the first city in Illinois to experience the freedom and convenience of wireless broadband from Xanadoo.

Additionally, Xanadoo has donated $1,000 to each of the following organizations to show its support towards the greater Springfield community: United Way of Central Illinois, Boys & Girls Clubs of Springfield, Ronald McDonald House Charities of Central Illinois and Children's Miracle Network.

"Xanadoo is changing the way internet users connect to the web," said Ted Schwalb, Xanadoo General Manager. "Internet users no longer need phone or cable service to get high-speed Internet plus have the convenience and flexibility of connecting anywhere within our regional wireless network ... at home, the office, down the street or even across town. Xanadoo users now have the ability to connect where they want, when they want."

With Xanadoo, customers connect using our Zero-Install™ Portable Desktop Modem. You simply plug it in, turn it on and you're connected. It's that simple. There's no waiting, no confusing wires and no complicated self-install kits. In addition, Xanadoo will soon be offering its Internet-On-The-Go Laptop Card, which will provide laptop users with mobile high-speed connectivity throughout the Springfield network area.

"High-speed Internet should be simple and affordable," added Rory Lindgren, Xanadoo Chief Operating Officer. "You shouldn't have to pay for phone or cable service just to connect to the Internet and you shouldn't be tethered by wires. The success we've had in our other markets substantiate our belief that people are looking for a more convenient, flexible and affordable alternative to DSL, cable and dial-up."

Xanadoo offers 5 service plans starting at just $14.95 a month with speeds up to 1.0 Mbps. All plans come with wireless convenience, everyday low pricing with no promotional pricing gimmicks or hidden add-on charges, and a 14-day money-back guarantee. Xanadoo is also offering a free wireless Desktop Modem after mail-in rebate and free service activation when customers sign-up for a 2-year service agreement for a total savings of $150.
